

Question:

1. On the application Information page there is a question that asks if the applicant is a CHDO for the City of Miami Beach. I haven't seen any details in the application instructions that refer to CHDO, but there is information about a CBDO. Is the H a typo?
2. Also, the drop down for the Corporate Status does not work. Although there are the options of profit and non-profit, when you click on either, nothing appears in the space.

Answers:

1. The question pertains to the applicant being a Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO). You can find the reference under Eligible Activities/HUD Guidelines (Special Activities by CDBO's Page 2 of 2) Page 11. What we are looking for is to determine if the entity is a CHDO. Therefore, the H is not a typo.
2. You are correct. Please find the updated application attached with the corrected drop down menu.

I apologize for the technical difficulties.
